EDITOR'S NOTE

Dear pensioner

Welcome to 2012! I hope that you've had time to reflect on 2011 and to make good resolutions for the new year. In this edition, we look at various discounts that will help to make your money stretch. We also help you to plan for the future with tips on how to keep a file together of information your family will need on the Fund if you pass on.

It's an exciting time in the Fund – the Trustee elections have taken place and voting came to a close on 30 March 2012 and the counting of the votes is now underway. Our active participation in democracy doesn't just begin and end with national government elections. The EPPF Trustee elections have been an opportunity to exercise this important right through electing the Board of Trustees of the EPPF to look after your pension and make sure that the Fund is managed in a transparent, accountable manner in line with good governance principles. During April, votes will be counted and as soon as the results are collated, we will announce the names of the candidates that will comprise the new Board of Trustees

Thank you for making your vote count in the EPPF 2012 Trustee elections!

We would love to hear from you and hear any suggestions you may have for stories for the Pensioner Talk newsletter. You can write to us and send us a letter by post to Pensioner Talk, Private Bag X50, Bryanston, 2021.

Regards The Editor

EPPF LAUNCHES A Revised BBBEE Policy

Investments are a cornerstone of how we make the Fund's assets and money grow in order to continue to provide benefits to all pensioners and members of the Fund. The manner in which we invest the assets of the Fund to yield the best possible returns is therefore very important. While doing this, we still have a responsibility to contribute positively towards the transformation of the financial services sector.

The Board of Trustees of the Fund recently approved a revised Broad-Based Black Economic Empowerment (BBBEE) Policy for the management of the Fund's investments. This is an exciting development for the Fund, as the policy will help the Fund to drive transformation and increase opportunities for the economic participation of previously disadvantaged asset managers and other service providers.

The EPPF will use BBBEE to try address the economic imbalances of the past by making its contribution towards accelerating the meaningful economic participation of the previously disadvantaged. Unlike BEE which only focused on Ownership and Management, BBBEE's focus is on Equity Ownership, Management, Employment Equity, Skills Development, Preferential Procurement, Enterprise Development and Socio-economic Development.

The Fund's BBBEE Policy provides compliance guidelines to drive transformation in asset management companies, emerging black asset managers, private equity funds, socially desirable investments and stock broking companies.

The policy requires all asset managers to achieve a level 3 BBBEE rating. Non-complying managers will be given a 12-month window to comply. It further encourages managers to strive for a 50% black employee representation at both board and executive director level, as well as 40% black employee representation at top management.

The revised policy was introduced to the Fund's service providers like asset managers and stock brokers, and industry stakeholders such as the Financial Services Board, the Department of Trade and Industry and other large funds such as the Government Employees Pension Fund at a breakfast held in Sandton on the 15th of February. The breakfast was also an opportunity for the service providers to engage in a meaningful discussion on EPPF's policy and on BBBEE in general.

The adoption of this policy is also a demonstration of the Fund's commitment to South Africa's transformation agenda and economic empowerment and an opportunity to influence the impact and effectiveness of BBBEE policy in South Africa's financial services industry.

If you would like to find out more about the Fund's BBBEE Policy, please visit the Fund's website on www.eppf.co.za and click on the "What's new" tab.

ELECTION FOCUS The Counting Begins

As you are aware, we ran Trustee elections for the new EPPF Board of Trustees who will take office in June 2012. (The term of office of the current Board of Trustees ends on 31 May 2012.) The process began with a nomination process in January and was followed by an election process during March. We would like to thank you for taking part in the election process voting for your pensioner Trustees.

Voting for your pensioner Trustees is a very important exercise in democracy to ensure that the right people whom you want to represent you are elected onto the EPPF Board of Trustees.

During April and May, the votes will be counted and the member-elected candidates – the two pensioner Trustees and five member Trustees - with the highest number of votes will become Trustees on the EPPF Board of Trustees. We will announce the names of the Trustees as soon as the results become available. The Fund will ensure that once the Trustees are elected and are in office, they receive Trustee training and education on the laws that govern pension funds, the rules of the Fund, and all matters relating to the Fund such as risks, and investments.

The entire election process is overseen by an independent electoral office, the Electoral Institute for Sustainable Democracy in Africa (EISA), to ensure that the elections are fair and transparent.

If at any point you have any concerns or queries about the elections, please contact the electoral officer directly on 0800 I I 43 73, free from a Telkom line or send an email to ntok.org.za.

What happens when you pass away?

The passing of a loved one is a difficult event. The emotional and financial difficulty can be made easier if those left behind know what to do when you pass away. As a member of the Fund, your beneficiaries are entitled to a lump sum and pension benefit (if there is a spouse or eligible children left behind) in the event of your passing away. In order to access the benefit, your family must take the following steps:

- 1. Notify the nearest Eskom Human Resources Office or our Pension Fund Contact Centre on 0800 11 45 48 and request the "Applications for Death Benefits" and the "Application for Lifelong Benefits" forms from the HR Office or Contact Centre.
- 2. Complete the form and return it to the nearest Eskom Human Resources Office together with:
- ✓ A certified copy of the death certificate
- ✔ A certified copy of the deceased member's Identity Document
- ✓ A certified copy of the deceased member's husband or wife's Identity Document
- ✓ Civil marriage or customary union certificate or affidavit
- ✓ Birth certificates of children below the age of 21 years
- ✓ Bank details of the beneficiary (e.g. husband or wife of the deceased)

Note that if the relevant documents are outstanding, this may lead to a delay in payment.

To help make things easier for your loved ones keep a personal file with the following:

- ✓ Your EPPF details, including your unique EEPF number, the address of your nearest EPPF Office, and the EPPF toll free number - 0800 | | 45 48.
- ✓ The information provided above on the steps to take and information to provide to the Fund regarding your death.
- Include in that file contact details of any other life and funeral policy details, assets and debts.
